Mr. Hays is being urged by admiring friends to enter the race, but they feel that the time for entering, being fixed for next Monday and that he would not have time to canvass the four counties. This is the only obstacle that appears to be in the way of Mr. Hays' candidacy.

"WORK WAS THE TOPIC AT THE CITY SCHOOL

Dr. J. W. Porter Delivered Interesting Talk to High School Pupils.

At the Wednesday lecture at the City School, Dr. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, delivered an interesting talk on "Work." Dr. Porter said in part:

As I look above me, the greatest word, is "Grace," as I look about me, the greatest word is "Work." The order of the age is action. "Get busy," is the command of the century. The demands for work, are greater than ever. The fool has always been a failure, but is a greater failure, in this than in any other age. Idleness is innocent, but ignorance, in spite of opportunity is a crime. I can apologize for a mistake, but must expiate a crime. A "know-nothing party," would now be an anachronism, and everyone should aspire to become a member of the "know-something party."

You Are Responsible.

You are not responsible for being born without a knowledge of the alphabet, but you are responsible if you die without a knowledge of the alphabet. You cannot meet the demand of the age, without thoroughly preparing yourself, and you cannot prepare yourself without honest work. Birth and a bank account are no longer passports to success or respectability. Butter milk will no longer suffice for brains. If you are not willing to work, what you hear in the schoolroom, will go in at one ear and come out at the other provided there is nothing in your head to stop it. Raphael finished his wonderful painting of the Transfiguration, while dying. In the early dawn of the morning, after working through all the lonely night, the brush fell from his nerveless hand and Raphael died. But the transfiguration lives, and will live, till time is no more.

Opportunities For Work.

The opportunities for work are greater than ever before. The steamship is waiting at the wharf, that will carry you across the Atlantic within five days; the wireless telegram only awaits your sending. Great libraries are groaning on their shelves challenging you to knowledge. The Public School, the greatest institution of the century, throws wide its doors, to the pauper and prince.

Envy Boy and Girl.

If there is one thing, on this earth that I envy, it is the boy or girl of this century. Oh! to be a young man again, with all the opportunities of the hour. The light that shall fall on our grave, will shine on you onward and upward way in the world. What a chance is yours—don't crucify it. The trouble is with many students, that they are just downright lazy. Some people are seemingly so lazy, that they wouldn't say, "Soie!" if the hogs were eating them up. It matters little what kind of work you do, if it is only honest work. A young man once refused a position that I had secured for him, because the work had to be performed with his hands. He said he worked with his head—so does a woodpecker, but he is no better, because of the fact.

You Must Preserve.

You must also persevere in your work. Some start well, drop out of the procession before the final examinations. I once heard of two frogs that fell into a churn of milk. One of them gave up in despair and soon drowned, but the other, kept trying to save himself till he finally churned, and saved himself on the cake of butter. The penalty for not working is more severe than ever before. If you fail to work here, you must pay the penalty of a crippled life.

Reputation of School.

The reputation of this school in some measure depends upon your efforts. You are samples of the work done here, so see to it, that there are no shoddy samples. When Gen. Togo, sighted the Russian vessels, he realized that the fate of his nation would soon tremble in the balances. He signaled to all his ships, "The fate of the empire is in your hands, and the Emperor expects every man to do his duty."

If you miss these opportunities you can never recall them. As true as it is trite, the "Mill will never grind with the water that is past."

Nor should you forget the real end of all work and all knowledge, which is, to save yourself, and serve the world. Build then, your studio on Calvary. Know books, but above all, know Him, whom to know is life eternal.

LARGE COURT DAY CROWD

Trading at the Farmers' and Shippers' Stock Yards Very Brisk.

Monday, the November court day, witnessed the largest crowd that has been in town in some time. The merchants in the clothing stores and in all other businesses report that trade is very active.

At the Farmer's and Shippers' stock yards on Winn avenue, there were 1,200 cattle on the market and about two hundred sheep, but the demand for the sheep was not great.

The buying was slow in the morning hour, but towards noon it livened up and satisfactory prices and bidding prevailed the rest of the day.

The following is a partial list of the good sales that were made up to the time this report closed.

Zade Hodgkin to B. S. Bartlett 120 heifers, average weight 700 lbs., for $3.75.

Tom Daniels to Mr. Long 11 heifers, average weight 600 lbs., for 3 1-2 cents.

JUNIOR MISSION BAND.

Great Scott!

If our people don't know a good thing when they see it, no use of looking for people who do.

We mean this in candid sincerity, and we want to thank the people who have so generously heeded our solicitations for their work in the last six weeks.

We are now adding to our force at the rate of one man a day.

And now that the Tobacco money is soon to become a Prodigal Son, lets all put our shoulders to the wheel of prosperity, and show the world that Winchester is not only the home of the largest deals, but is the largest 10,000 city of this glorious America. And that the

Eagle Casting Co.,

of Winchester (incorporated) is giving better work and better prices on Castings of all kinds,

Coal and Lumber Cars, Cement Clamps,

Gas Furnaces

and Structural Steel, than any similar institution in Kentucky.
